

Cyprus International University (CIU) offers sustainability-related university electives that are available for all students.

Some of these are as below.

PNGE4522: Conventional and Alternative Energy Resources

PNGE4511: World Energy Policy

SGBL322: Health Services in Disasters

FTRE220: Exercise for Health

Furthermore, the university integrates sustainability education into the full curriculum as well. Sustainability concepts are part of our CIU QUALITY VALUES and CIU QUALITY OUTCOMES (See Quality Value 8 and see Quality Outcome 9 <https://www.ciu.edu.tr/en/about-us/quality-vision>)

The graphic features a light yellow background with a dark blue header. Below the header is a paragraph of text. A list of eight quality values follows, each in a rounded rectangle with a downward arrow. The eighth item, 'CIU QV8 Sustainability and Well-Being', is highlighted with a dark blue background and an upward arrow. Below this list is a final paragraph of text.

CIU QUALITY VALUES

Our quality values are at the heart of both student and staff experience. Through our communications and our relationships, we are determined to develop a quality culture and high levels of both student and staff satisfaction. We consider ourselves to be a Learning Community where all students and staff are engaged in a continuous process of development, research, innovation, and improvement. Fundamental to the success of this community are the values of freedom of expression, and a progressive outlook that will take our University forward.
